Backdoor Found in Themes and Plugins from AccessPress Themes

Found on github on 18/04/2022 to have theme...

While investigating a compromised site we discovered some suspicious code in a theme by AccessPress Themes (aka AccessPress), a vendor with a large number of popular themes and plugins. On further investigation, we found that all the themes and most plugins from the vendor contained this suspicious code, but only if downloaded from their own website. The same extensions were the if downloaded or installed directly from the WordPress.org directory.

Due to the way the extensions were compromised, we suspected an external attacker had breached the website of AccessPress Themes in an attempt to use their extensions to infect further sites.
